

NO home to-day, into whose coffers a fair income is accumulating, need go without the furniture it needs to make it attractive and comfortable. It is never wise to suffer inconvenience when you might be pleased and comfortable.

Smooth out that mental furniture wrinkle. Come to us and learn how reasonably you can furnish a home or replace a worn out piece of furniture. There's a deficiency somewhere in the furnishing of almost any home. If it were a frayed out hat or suit you'd get another. But you let your furniture needs cry aloud in their depleted condition. We don't censure—we just want you to come and see what a needless, harmful policy it is to let your furniture run down.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Don't miss seeing the "two little rubes from Peacham" at Pavilion to-night.—ad. The Weekly club will meet with Mrs. Swenson, Academy street, Thursday at 2:30 p. m.

Regular meeting of Sons of Veterans' auxiliary, No. 5, Wednesday evening, April 25, at 7:30.

P. G. Lamson of Cambridge, Mass., a granite advertiser, is passing a few days in the city on business.

"Breezy Point," to be given at Congregational vestry May 4 by entertainment committee of Philathea class.—adv.

George L. Mead of New York, who was formerly represented in Barre by a retail monument office, is passing a few days at Hotel Barre.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Mather of Springfield, Mass., and Charles Bradford of Shelton were called to Barre on account of the death of their aunt, Miss Blanche Moorcroft.

Judge H. W. Scott of Richardson street left this morning for Burlington, where he is to attend the annual convention of the Vermont N. E. O. P., which opens this evening.

A good chance to learn quarrying. A few good quarrymen and drillers wanted at the E. L. Smith & Co. quarries. Apply at the quarries or at the office in the Averill building.

Barre streets were sorely in need of sprinkling to-day, as a stiff breeze from the west carried on its wings everything light and portable, much to the discomfort of pedestrians.

F. J. Bicknell of Rockland, Me., general manager of the Livingstone Tool Co., arrived in the city last night and is registered at Hotel Barre while making a week's business visit in the Barre granite belt.

The friends of Mrs. Warren E. Barnes of 701 Metropolitan avenue, Hyde Park, Mass., an old resident of west hill, Barre, will be pained to learn of the death of her only granddaughter, Edith Putnam, which occurred at the Somerville hospital April 18. No particulars have been learned.

Frank G. Myers, who gave Ludlow as his home address, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace A. A. Sargent in city court this morning on an intoxication charge, which he admitted in the second degree. A sentence of 30 days in the county jail was imposed. Myers was locked up at 11 o'clock last night.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: Guy Gilmore of Derby Line, P. W. Stearns of St. Johnsbury, C. R. E. Best of Enosburg Falls, Bert Hyland of Malone, N. Y., H. P. Oliver of St. Johnsbury, A. M. Bucklin of Canaan, N. H., H. D. Finn of Providence, R. I., and J. M. Stetzel of Baltimore, Md.

At a regular meeting of R. B. Crandall post, No. 56, department of Vermont, G. A. R., a vote was taken to instruct its commander, through the Barre Daily Times, to give an invitation to the mayor, city council, city clerk, Knight Templars, Knights of Pythias and all other fraternal organizations to join with the post in the observance of Memorial day. John W. Averill, commander.

Weeks of work under difficulties are having a telling effect on the Bolster reservoir repairs and if some of the handicaps that hindered operations during the late winter and early spring do not disappear, the big basin will have been completely restored in another fortnight. Just now a gang of 12 men is at work around the spillway and in a season when labor has been unusually scarce the water department figures that it is fortunate in being able to continue the work. One wing of the spillway, a solid concrete wall, was finished last week and the forms in the spillway proper are already to be filled. The department has erected an enclosure and the traction company will be discussed. The street committee expects to have ready recommendations bearing on the stone-crusher, the location of which is more or less a bone of friendly contention among the granite manufacturers.

The members of the Goddard seminary baseball squad had the longest practice of the season yesterday, the entire team being out in togs for about three hours without a let up in the hard drill, which Coach Hoernle set them through. While the team played a strong game against the Norwich team Saturday, Coach Hoernle feels that it will take the remainder of the week to put them into condition to meet the Vermont team on next Saturday at Burlington. Coach Brown of the Spaulding team is putting his men through a strenuous week in making preparations for the big drive which is to commence next Friday afternoon, when the Spaulding team meets the Spaulding alumni at Lincoln campus in their opening matinee of the year. The entire squad is making suitable headway in gaining form and looks to be one of the strongest representing the school in several years.

A reader of The Times who appreciates the degree of patriotism reflected by the splendid display of flags in Barre quotes the Society of Patriotic Decorations and Civic Improvements in suggesting when and how the Stars and Stripes should be displayed. The flag, it appears, should not be hoisted before sunrise, nor be allowed up after sunset. It should never be allowed to touch the ground. When the flag is used as a banner, that is, suspended on a rope across a street, the union, or field, should fly to the north in streets running east and west, and to the east in streets running north and south. The flag should always be flown from a staff or a mast and should not be fastened to the side of a building, platform or scaffolding. It should not be draped around pillars or against walls or balustrades. Properly red, white and blue bunting may be substituted. The flag should never be used as a cover over a table, desk or box, or where anything can be placed upon it. To fly a flag at half-mast, it must first be raised to full staff and then lowered.

Card of Thanks.

The sisters and brother of Miss Blanche Moorcroft wish to thank their many friends for their expressions of sympathy and for their beautiful floral offerings in their recent bereavement.

Mrs. John Hood, who has been visiting friends in West Topham during the past few days, passed through the city yesterday while en route to her home in Montpelier.

Fred A. Church of South Main street left last evening for Chicago, where he will make a visit at the head office of the American Stone Trade, in the interest of the eastern office.

Frank L. Howells of Newton, Mass., returned to his home to-day, after a business trip of a few days in Barre, Graniteville and Williamstown in the interests of a lumber concern.

Harry Turner, formerly employed at the local express office, and now of the Springfield, Mass., office, who has been visiting friends in the city during the past week, returned yesterday to Springfield.

Miss Josephine Taylor of Concord, N. H., arrived in the city last evening to spend a few days visiting friends on Beekley street, while en route to Burlington, where she will make an extended sojourn with her sister, Mrs. Nat King.

Truman L. Waldo of Sharon, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Barre and Washington during the past two weeks, left yesterday for Randolph, where he will visit relatives for a few days, while en route to his home.

Miss Edna Gorham of Jefferson street, who has been in St. John, P. Q., working as a nurse since the typhoid epidemic broke out there a few weeks ago, arrived in the city yesterday. Miss Gorham has been visiting friends in Montreal, P. Q., for a few days, while en route home, and had the chance to watch the military parade in that city on the second anniversary of the battle of Ypres. The parade was one of the largest ever held in Montreal, there being nearly all of the battalions in Canada in the procession, including some wounded soldiers, who have been in hospitals in Montreal as well as the recruits under preliminary training at the present time. The parade was of such length that it took an hour for it to pass.

TALK OF THE TOWN

James Bernard of West Fairlee was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Not only Gage & Phipps hats, but other leading models at Mrs. Shepard Co., Inc.

Hear James Bennett at the Pavilion to-night. He will sing "My Wild Irish Rose" and "Mother Machree"—adv.

Wilfred Letourneau, who recently disposed of his Depot square lunch business to Brown & Rizzi, is passing a few days in Burlington.

There will be a regular meeting of Minnehaha encampment, No. 2, Tuesday evening, April 24, at 7:30. Work, Golden Rule degree. All officers and patriarchs are urgently requested to be present.

Will T. Maiden, who has been passing a week-end recess in town, went back to Montpelier seminary yesterday to resume his faculty duties. Coach Maiden has a promising set of recruits for his baseball team this spring and will give the outfit its initial tryout to-morrow, when the Randolph team stops in the capital for a game.

Richardson street in the past few days has resembled a section of the famous Hindenburg line in France for the west side of the thoroughfare capitulated early last week to the Perry & Lane firm, which deals extensively in spring water. The excavators have the situation well in hand and under favorable conditions it is expected that the water supply people will restore the street to normal by the end of the week. Old pipe which was rapidly falling into disuse, has been replaced by a new pipe and other repairs have been made to the system in that game.

Sugar makers in towns about are not unanimous in favoring the sugar crop of the 1917 season among the maples, as some are so far convinced of the futility of further operations that they have gathered their buckets, while others, refusing to join the chorus, contend that the last run has not been registered yet. An Orange farmer who has collected an average of two pounds from every tree in his bush stunted yesterday that cold nights and sunny days will bring another run. Spring has a different aspect in Orange, where snow lays in the woods, and the farmer there who refuses to turn his evaporator to the wall cannot understand why a well known South Barre farmer happened to be glimpsed yesterday in the act of assiduously scrubbing his buckets preparatory to storing.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Miss Lillian Myrle Hutchinson, who has been at home for a vacation, returned to Fairfax last Saturday, where she has a position as grade teacher in the Bellows Free academy. She will be under necessity of finding a new boarding place as the Fairfax hotel, where several of the teachers boarded, was burned but a few days ago.

G. Luchini, who is employed by the William B. Jones Granite Co., was in Montpelier on the 21st to consult with the officer in charge of the navy recruiting station in that city about enlisting in the U. S. navy.

Mrs. Emmeline Richardson, who returned from Barre City hospital last week after a stay of about two weeks, is at her rooms in the Poole block.

George B. Savery, for several months past in the employ of the American Express Co. at Springfield, has enlisted in Co. K of that town and is now at Fort Ethan Allen.

Choir rehearsal of the M. E. choir in the vestry on Friday evening of this week.

Walter M. Williams, substitute carrier on rural route No. 3, served the route on the 21st, regular carrier, Robert E. Clogston, being absent attending the funeral of his grandfather, J. D. Clogston, in Montpelier.

The famous registered Holstein bull, Maple Grove Prince Aggie, No. 110922, was dressed for beef last week, the live weight being 2220 pounds and dressed weight, 1360 pounds. This bull was a little over four years old and for the last two years has been worked by his owner, William P. Briggs, in almost any capacity that a horse is ever worked, both single and double, with a horse as partner, and both on the farm and on the road. He has made good on the plow, harrow, wagon, rake and in hauling loads home from the village.

Rev. and Mrs. George W. Keeling returned from Newport yesterday, where they had been for several days attending the sessions of the Vermont conference. Rev. Mr. Keeling was returned to have charge of this church, which we understand was the unanimous desire of the people here.

There was a flag raising near Millie J. Drury's house on the afternoon of the 23d at 4 o'clock. The members of the high and graded schools of the village marched to the place from school and took part in the ceremony.
